ADD- ON COURSE NAME: Basic Concept of the Upanisads and Upanisadik Philosophy(30 Hours.)

Course Objective:

The original source of the entire Indian Vedic philosophy is written in the Upanishad texts. The perfect invention of the very highest level of human intelligence, which is called RitambharaPrajna, is visible in these Upanishads. The Upanishads reveal to us that we are beyond life and death, good and bad; that we are the Supreme Brahman, the Highest Reality. This ultimate Reality of life, when realized through the triple means of Shravana, Manana and Nididhyasana reveals the Self as the source of all Bliss and Knowledge within. The entire universe becomes one's own abode, and comes to be experienced as a glorious expression of the Self.

Course Outcome:

The Upanishads give us knowledge about the balance of Vyashti (individual), Samashti (society) and Parameshti (universe) and their innate relationship. The stories of the Upanishads teach us which path we have to walk in order to lead a happy, welfare and prosperous life for the whole world. The Upanishads have the ability to bestow the spirit, mind, intellect and spiritual divine bliss beyond reason. The Upanishad gives us such knowledge that is very easy and accessible, which can be adopted by any human being in the world. Adequate discussion has been done in the Upanishads on moral life, study, social order, good governance, environment, art and culture. We get a wonderful and supernatural bliss from the Upanishads. It is necessary for every Indian to have knowledge of the Upanishads and the moral stories described in it.

various aspects of the subject matter, ensuring a thorough examination of the participants' understanding. This approach facilitated the identification of areas of strength and areas requiring further improvement among the candidates. Moreover, the multiple-choice format provided an objective means of evaluation, minimizing subjective bias in the assessment process. Participants were required to select the most appropriate answer from a set of options provided, thereby enabling a fair and standardized evaluation of their knowledge. Additionally, the use of MCQs allowed for efficient grading and feedback, streamlining the assessment process for both the evaluators and the participants. Detailed analysis of the responses aids in pinpointing specific areas of weakness, enabling targeted interventions to support further learning and development.
