Conclusion

SSA also leads to girl child on permanent. It will their self-confidence. It transforms them from a docile person to an educated person who can handle the challenges of life and questions inequalities. Thus we can say the SSA is successful in bringing dropout girls back to school. We could see the progressive changes in the enrollment and retention.

When we educate a girl we empower her to have a say over the choices she has. Once educated, they can speak up for themselves, their right, or argue if wronged and demand justice. This would lead to making of a just society.
