ADD- ON COURSE NAME: WOMEN EMPOWERMENT AND DEVELOPMENT ACT IN INDIA

(30 Hours)

COURSE INTRODUCTION

The primary objective of this course is to provide Women Empowerment refers to enabling woman to have control over their lives, make choices and decisions , and have equal access to resources and opportunities. Its involves creating an environment where woman can participate in society and the economy on an equal footing with men , and where their voices are heard and their rights are protected. Woman's empowerment can take many forms including education, economic, political and social. Ultimately, women's empowerment aims to create a world where women have the power and freedom to live their lives, without discrimination or limitations based on gender. Women's participation in various fields, including politics, defence, sports, games, can break down gender stereotypes and empower women to take on leadership roles, and challenge gender-based discrimination. The Constitution of India has certain provisions that specifically focus on women empowerment and prevents discrimination against women in the society. Article 14 talks about equality before law. Article 15 enables the state to make special provisions for women. As the progress of humanity is incomplete without women therefore successive governments have launched number of schemes for empowerment of women in male dominated society..

Some specific laws which were enacted by the Parliament in order to fulfill Constitutional obligation of women empowerment are ,

- The Equal Remuneration Act, 1976.
- The Dowry Prohibition Act, 1961.
- The Immoral Traffic (Prevention) Act, 1956.
- The Maternity Benefit Act, 1961.
- The Medical termination of Pregnancy Act, 1971.
- The Commission of Sati (Prevention) Act, 1987.
- The Prohibition of Child Marriage Act, 2006.
- The Pre-Conception & Pre-Natal Diagnostic Techniques (Regulation and Prevention of Misuse) Act, 1994.
- The Sexual Harassment of Women at Work Place (Prevention, Protection and) Act, 2013.

Above mentioned and several other laws are there which not only provide specific legal rights to women but also gives them a sense of security and empowerment.

Contents of the Course Taught

1. Establishing mechanisms for women's equal participation and equitable representation at all levels of the political process and public life in each community and society and enabling women to articulate their concerns and needs;
2. Promoting the fulfilment of women's potential through education, skill development and employment, giving paramount importance to the elimination of poverty, illiteracy and ill health among women;
3. Eliminating all practices that discriminate against women; assisting women to establish and realize their rights, including those that relate to reproductive and sexual health;
4. Adopting appropriate measures to improve women's ability to earn income beyond traditional occupations, achieve economic self-reliance, and ensure women's equal access to the labour market and social security systems;
5. Making it possible, through laws, regulations and other appropriate measures, for women to combine the roles of child-bearing, breast-feeding and child-rearing with participation in the workforce.

Objectives of the Programme

Explore the multifaceted dimensions of women empowerment and development in the context of the legal Framework, focusing on the woman empowerment and development act in India. Gain insights into the historical evolution, key provisions, and implementation challenges of the act, while fostering a comprehensive understanding of its impact on promoting gender equality, economic empowerment and social development.
